Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-11, drawn to an in-plane switching mode liquid crystal display device, classified in class 349, subclass 141.
- II. Claims 12 and 13, drawn to a method of fabricating an in-plane switching mode liquid crystal display device, classified in class 349, subclass 187.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product such as an LCD having a light blocking line on an organic layer which has no stepped portion.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

If Group I (claims 1-10) is elected, method claims 14-24 will be examined with Group I because the structure of the device is implied in the recited steps of the method claims.

Art Unit: 2871

If Group II (claims 12 and 13) is elected, device claims 25 and 26 will be examined with Group II because the structure of the device is implied in the recited steps of the method claims.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
